- IV. Notes and Irregularities
a. The following are some notes and irregularities:

Nominees who were dually elected by acclamation

AFSCME Local 127
nomination and some election results
Wednesday, May 11, 2022

After the nominations were complete, a motion was made to accept the results of the nominations. This motion was seconded; thus, it went to a vote. As specified above, some of these nominees went uncontested; put differently, for some of the positions, there was only one nominee. In effect, this means these nominees were dually elected by acclamation. This motion passed: the membership by majority vote accepted the nominations, including those who were dually elected by acclamation. For this reason, the members listed above in Section II are installed into office immediately. See AFSCME Local Election Manual, Installation of Officers, p. 25.

Nominees who will appear on the ballot

After the nomination meeting, all the nominees were contacted to inform them of their right to an observer and the absolute rights of said observers. See AFSCME Local Election Manual, Observers, p. 17-18.

President

Initially, Craig Walker nominated himself. However, after further consideration and while the nominations for President remained open, Craig rescinded his own nomination. That is how Tim Douglass was dually elected by acclamation for President.

Executive Board Members

At the time of the nomination for the Small Shops, Charles Grasmick was nominated as Charles “the marine mechanic.” Thus, after the nomination, we confirmed the last name of Charles.

Trustees

For the Trustee for the 1-year term, the Election Committee confirmed the last name of the nominee after the conclusion of the meeting. The nominee for the Trustee for the 1-year term was Lamont Prago, who was also dually elected by acclamation.

There were no nominations for the 2-year term. However, there were two nominations for the 3-year term.

Steve Lemos was nominated for two positions: Executive Board of Fleet and Trustee for the 3-year term. Since the two positions cannot be held simultaneously, we contacted Steve on Friday, May 13, 2022, to ask for which position Steve preferred to remain a nominee. Steve confirmed he preferred to remain a nominee for the Executive Board for Fleet. Therefore, Jesus Silhua was dually elected by acclamation after the conclusion of the meeting.
